Miami Dolphins Foundation holds Fins Weekend extravaganza

Touchdown, hole-in-one and the biggest catch, all in one weekend! I know, sounds like a super week-end, well, maybe a super bowl kind of weekend!

You got it, our NFL team's foundation, The Miami Dolphins Foundation, jam-packed a nonstop, multi-day extravaganza for its 19th annual Fins Weekend presented by Estrella Insurance. The party started with a festive day on the golf course as four teams hit the fairways with Miami Dolphins players for the tournament, presented by Waste Management, at the Trump National Doral Golf Club. After teeing off and a celebratory awards luncheon, the bash continued at the Miami Beach Marina for the Hook and Tackle Captain's Party presented by South Florida Ford where eager fishermen and women gathered inside a huge tent along Alton Road with Dolphins' current players, alumni, coaches and cheerleaders for a night of reveling, music and tons of sumptuous fare.

"I never cease to be amazed by the great support we get every year for this signature event," Fins Weekend Committee Chair Jeff Peck said. "From the links to anglers and the parties in between, the momentum continues to build around our hometown team and the difference we are making to support education."

Early the next morning, a total of 43 boats participated in the Fins

Tom Garfinkel, event chair Jeff Peck, Joe Philbin, radio personality and event chair Paul Castronovo, event chair Stan Rudman, Dan Marino and Dennis Hickey at the 19th annual Fins Weekend presented by Estrella Insurance.

Weekend Fishing Tournament, where Tally Ho (Rick Simmons, Stephen Simmons, Carly Simmons and Chuck Bunch) claimed first prize with an overall combined weight of 98.3 lbs. The quartet won a spot on the team charter plane to fly to a Miami Dolphins away game. Love it! The tournament was followed by the weigh-in presented by Hooters and Fishing Awards Ceremony and Live Auction presented by Simrad.

"The 19th Fins Weekend was another example of our community coming together," Miami Dolphins President and CEO Tom Garfinkel said. "The proceeds of this year's Fins Weekend will go toward supporting City Year's efforts to mentor and help kids in our community successfully navigate through their educational journey."

GOLDEN ANGELS

Hundreds feasted on those famous crabs. Yes, stone crab season has ended but that didn't stop Joe's from kicking it up a notch for charity! The iconic stone crab restaurant hosted a private recognition dinner for the Jackson Health Foundation chaired by Pat Wallace to celebrate the fundraising efforts of the Foundation's Golden Angel Society.

The evening started out with cocktails thanks to Harvey Chaplin and Southern Wine & Spirits and a lively reception including a photo opp with an elegant, live golden angel before heading into the main dining room for the award presentations.

Keith Tribble, Jackson Health Foundation CEO, welcomed guests before introducing Silvia Rios Fortun, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Foundation, and Dr. Rudolph Moise, Board Vice Chairman. Fortun recognized the Golden Angel Society beneficiaries, who made new gifts this year, including: Golden Angels – Alan and Ivette Ackerson, Dr. Patricio and Yuri Rossi, Rosalinda and Maximo Sacchini, Brunilda Baeza, former Ambas-
